

Privacy Notice for Ri Maths Masterclasses at University of Glasgow

Your Personal Data

The University of Glasgow will be what's known as the 'Data Controller' of your personal data processed in relation to administration of the Ri Maths Masterclasses. This privacy notice will explain how The University of Glasgow will process your personal data.

Why we need it

We are collecting your basic personal data such as personal details of school representatives, parents or legal guardians, and names of pupils. Such details will include such data as name, email, phone number, gender, and age for contact and monitoring purposes. And, where provided, limited special categories data such as disability, or other health data to ensure we are aware of pupil needs on the day. We will only collect the data we need to organise and deliver the masterclasses for your pupils/children.

Legal basis for processing your data

We must have a legal basis for processing all personal data. In this instance, the legal basis is:

Consent – by providing your personal data you are consenting to be contacted regarding the Maths Masterclasses, and for us to use your data to administer the maths masterclasses.

What we do with it and who we share it with

All the personal data you submit is processed by staff at the University of Glasgow in the United Kingdom.

How long do we keep it for

Your data will be retained by the University for up to 2 months after the Masterclasses have finished. After this time, your data will be securely deleted.

What are your rights?*

You can request access to the information we process about you at any time. If at any point you believe that the information we process relating to you is incorrect, you can request to see this information and may in some instances request to have it restricted, corrected or erased. You may also have the right to object to the processing of data and the right to data portability. Where we have relied upon your consent to process your data, you also have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights, please visit the DP&FOI Office's website or contact dp@glasgow.ac.uk.

*Please note that the ability to exercise these rights will vary and depend on the legal basis on which the processing is being carried out.

Complaints

If you wish to raise a complaint on how we have handled your personal data, please contact dpcomplaints@glasgow.ac.uk in the first instance.

If you are not satisfied with the complaint outcome, or believe we are not processing your personal data in accordance with the law, you can complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) <https://ico.org.uk/>
